

NOTES: December 2018 At the Buffalo Gap PIE Auction and Bid pickup.

Last night went well, except we really could have used a microphone!

As far as numbers, the Buffalo Gap was absolutely packed. It was mostly PACRAT team captains and racers, not as many non-racers. I would say about 60 people, but someone may have a better guess. I can tell you there were 19 desserts donated to auction off. The highest price was $60 for Virginia Collison's homemade coconut cream pie (I think it was the one with ganache), and the lowest price was $20. People really stepped up to support a good cause - except for that guy in the plaid shirt who Andy kept calling out for talking.

My regret is that no one remembered to take pictures for posting on social media!

I do agree that it was a fantastic event! Thank you for the kudos, I'm glad to be of service.

I'm very thankful that Troy and the Buffalo Gap is so supportive of the local ski community. Good venues are becoming hard to find.

GREAT meeting last night! It was lots of fun and we had a super turnout. We had lots of wonderful pies, cookies, and items to auction. Barbara Bousum's Lemon cello went for $50!! (thank you Barbara) Sue, you did an great job running the meeting. Peter, Andy and the PACRATS- awesome group! Andy, our auctioneer, was the star of the SHOW, in my opinion. Good job to all!!! We took in $675 with the auction and we are now hoping to double most of that with our anonymous MATCH donor. Only one BIG downfall..... Did anyone take pictures for Becki? Hope I am wrong.
